🎯 Career Objective

Crafting scalable web systems with precision and purpose, I am a MERN Stack Developer who transforms business logic into elegant, high-performance digital solutions. With hands-on expertise in React.js, Next.js, Node.js, and MongoDB, I engineer full-stack architectures that are secure, maintainable, and optimized for speed. My workflow embraces TypeScript, Tailwind CSS, and SSR to ensure seamless user experiences and modern development standards. I thrive in forward-driven teams where clean code meets real-world impact.
